Kidnaped Heir To Cuban Rum Fortune Saved

Soldiers Capture Alleged Abductors, Kill Family Servant

SANTIAGO, Cuba (AP)—Swift army action—rescue arrests and the killing of a servant deemed faithless—broke the Facundo Bacardi kidnaping case last night little more than 11 hours after the 8 year old heir to a rum fortune was seized for $50 000 ransom

The servant was chauffeur Guillermo Rodriguez 23 a dishonorably discharged Navy veteran who was at the wheel of the station wagon in which the tousle haired boy vanished on his way to a fashionable private school at 8 a m yesterday

Accused of conspiracy in the frustrated plot Rodriguez was shot to death while attempting to escape soon after Facundo was restored to his parents hungry but safe and sound A jobless youth nabbed while walking the boy along a suburban road was jailed in a barracks

Army officials said Rodriguez tossed out of the Navy as a marijuana peddler and gambler some months before the Bacardi family hired him, died under a hail of soldiers bullets when he made a break for liberty in the country while reenacting his part in the crime

The surviving prisoner, Manuel Echevarria 20 faces prosecution under a law providing a maximum of 12 years for kidnaping

To Facundo the day was one of hiking and hunger

' There was lots and lots of walking and I got real tired and hungry he said ' The men did not harm me in any way but they gave me nothing to eat I am just fine now

No Gambling Stamps Issued In Marion Area

Marion city and county apparently are free of any large scale gambling activities according to U S Treasury Department records of federal gambling stamps issued at the district internal revenue office at Columbus

Walter M Theiss chief of the returns processing branch said no gambling stamps have been issued to persons in or near Marion '

He reported that a total of only 48 of the stamps have been issued in the entire district which comprises some 29 counties in central and southern Ohio

Last week and early this week police officials in a number of communities and counties in the northeastern sections of the state conducted gambling raids following publication of a list of 68 persons issued gambling stamps from the Cleveland district office

Newspaper stories published in the area at that time pointed out that possession of a federal gambling stamp does not hinder arrest if the gambling activity is in violation of state or local laws

Marion Police Chief Thomas Coon said city police make periodic checks at the Columbus office for any stamps which may be issued to city residents

Facility Necessary For Courthouse, Jurists Rule

A Common Pleas Court order issued last summer by Judge Paul D Smith requiring Marion County commissioners to install an elevator in the Marion County Courthouse has been upheld by the Third District Court of Appeals

In an opinion filed this morning with the clerk of court s office the three judge panel reported its decision was reached mainly on the basis of a Supreme Court opinion that Common Pleas Courts may exercise control over the court house '

Younger Gives Opinion

Presiding Judge Raymond A Younger of Celina prepared the opinion after a review of the appeals' hearing and concurrence was given by Judge Charles A Guernsey of Fostoria and Judge George S Middleton of Bellefontaine

The higher court said it could ' find no error in any of the particulars set forth in the assignments of error or argued in briefs and that it remanded the order to the Marion County Court of Common Pleas for execution The Appeals Court added that it believed reasonable ground existed for appeal

First step in the elevator action came on April 16 1953 when a Marion County Bar Association committee filed a motion asking Common Pleas Court to review courthouse facilities The motion specifically requested the court to inquire into the necessity of an elevator in the courthouse

Necessary Facility

Following a hearing on May 7 Judge Smith ruled that an elevator was not only a necessary facility for the efficient performance of the functions of the Courts but the court is convinced that the installation will be a progressive step toward securing physical facilities so badly needed by most other county offices ' housed in the building

Judge Smith s order which became effective July 30 when a journal entry was filed was directed to Ray Reidenbaugh Luther Mitchell and Howard McCurdy

Plans for Fair Building, Coliseum Use Criticized

The Marion County Agriculture Society drew fire last night from a citizens group meeting to discuss long range plans for fairgrounds improvements

The fair board was criticized for ' lacking vision in planning and not making best use of the present facilities particularly the Coliseum

The meeting in the county extension office was attended by about 15 representatives of various farm groups

AFTER PROLONGED discussion of the whole problem the group passed two resolutions and appointed a committee of six to speak for the larger group at a special Fair Board meeting March 1 asking board members several questions about their future plans

Purpose of the committee would not be to criticize the fair board but to work with it in developing a better Marion County Fair Those attending decided that the fair board had accomplished many good things for the fair in the past and expressed the hope that the board would welcome the committee s cooperation

The 4-H Club leaders and vocational agriculture teachers present last night went on record as favoring the use of the Memorial Coliseum in this year s fair They also decided in favor of deferring any immediate building construction until it can be fitted into a long - range program of fair improvements

THE GROUP decided to seek the fair board s answer to the following questions

1 To what extent is the Coli

Sen. McCarthy Witness Admits Spy Activities

Moscow-Trained Man Took Pictures of State Department Material

ALBANY, N Y (AP)—Felix A Inslerman testified before Sen Joseph R McCarthy (R Wis) today that he was the man who photographed State Department documents for the Whittaker Chambers Communist spy ring

Inslerman 44 told his story for the first time before McCarthy, sitting as a one man senate investigations subcommittee here

Inslerman said he began some time in late 1937 ' to photograph documents brought to his house in Baltimore by a man he knew as Bob and later identified as Chambers

Inslerman said I recall the names of Grew and Bullitt on the documents The reference apparently was to Joseph Clark Grew, former U S ambassador to Japan and William C Bullitt, former U S envoy to France

Inslerman said he had been trained in Moscow to photograph documents and to receive the international radio code

On his return to this country in December 1935 Inslerman said he was contacted by a Soviet agent named Ben whom he could not identify further

McCarthy Demand Ignored by Army

WASHINGTON (AP) — A deadline set by Sen McCarthy (R - Wis) came and went last night without Army action demanded by the senator in a case involving a man he has labelled a Communist

McCarthy laid down a 24 hour ultimatum Thursday night that the Army produce the names of all personnel who had anything to do with the promotion and honorable discharge of Dr Irving Peress a reserve dentist Peress at a New York hearing refused to answer 33 questions about possible Communist activities and connections invoking the constitutional guarantee against self incrimination

Senate Group Recommends Warren Okay

Takes Action After Row Develops Over Airing of 10 Charges

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate judiciary subcommittee voted today to recommend to the full committee favorable action on Earl Warren s nomination to be chief justice of the United States

Chairman Langer (R ND) said the vote to make a favorable recommendation was not unanimous but he declined to disclose the vote

Sen Welker (R Idaho) a member of the full committee who sat in on the closed session told a reporter however that the vote was unanimous

' I know what I m talking about Welker said

Row Develops

A furious row boiled up in the subcommittee yesterday after unchecked charges against Warren former Republican governor of California were placed in the public record

The charges were placed in the public record on Langer s order The four other members of the subcommittee disclaimed any advance knowledge of the plan

Langer said the full judiciary committee would meet Wednesday to consider Warren s nomination

No Opposition Announced

The nomination submitted Jan 11 by President Eisenhower requires Senate approval No senator has announced intention of voting against confirmation

At the President s vacation headquarters in Palm Springs Calif yesterday Press Secretary James C Hagerty declined to discuss the developments

At a meeting yesterday called by Chairman Langer (R ND) the subcommittee publicly spread on the record charges it said it had received Among these were allegations that Warren had followed the Marxist line had appointed dishonest judges to office, and had been under the control of a notorious liquor lobbyist '

At Langer s direction subcommittee counsel Wayne Smithey read into the record a summary by the subcommittee staff of 10 charges made by persons who opposed Warren s nomination.

No Evaluation Made

Smithey said the staff had not tried to establish the truth or falsity of the charges but only listed those which if true would appear to be within the investigatory jurisdiction of the committee

Watkins and Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California interposed protests against this procedure and the open television filmed meeting soon afterward broke up in a row

Knowland later called the proceedings the most shocking event I have observed in my eight years in the Senate

Vice President Nixon also of California said in a statement to newsmen that the charges against Warren were completely fantastic and patently false

He added the Judiciary Committee rather than wasting its time investigating the charges could well spend some time investigating those who made them

Names Not Checked

Under questioning by Sen Hennings (D Mo Smithey said the names of persons sending in the charges had not been checked to see whether they were bona fide

He said two persons whom he named as Roderick J Wilson signer of a letter mailed in Los Angeles, and Burr McCloskey of Chicago separately made one of the charges

As read, this allegation was that the nominee was at one time under the domination and control of a notorious liquor lobbyist (Art Samish)

Samish s name was ready also in connection with a charge Warren had improper connections with the czar of illicit enterprises in California '

In San Francisco Harold Faulkner, attorney for Arthur Samish denounced these statements as outrageous ' and said Samish would completely establish the falsity of the charges if called in an official inquiry

But he said his client who recently was convicted of income tax evasion and is free on bail pending appeal would make no public statement on the matter

IN ROW OVER WARREN Senator William Langer (R) North Dakota says in Washington that if President Eisenhower had appointed a jurist instead of a politician there would have been few protests over the nomination of Earl Warren as Chief Justice Statements by Langer head of the judiciary subcommittee drew a counter blast from Vice President Richard Nixon who labeled the charges fantastic and false ' after the subcommittee had made public 10 complaints filed against Warren

Grim Story Unfolds

Court Told How Torture By Reds Broke U.S. Flier

WASHINGTON (AP)—One of those 20th century stories that stagger the imagination and sicken the heart is unfolding in a drab improvised courtroom on a hill overlooking the Pentagon

It is the story, as told by men who saw it happening of a brave man goaded to fury and gradually broken by his Communist captors under a load of abuse pain humiliation and physical wretchedness

Prisoner 14 Months

Frank H Schwable a flying Marine with a brilliant record of combat experience is the central figure He was a war prisoner in Korea 14 months Midway in his captivity, he signed a false confession he took part in germ warfare activities which in fact, never were carried on

The Reds made noisy propaganda use of Schwable s confession ' Now a four member court of Inquiry is trying to decide whether the 45 year-old Schwable a slender alert man with thinning and graying hair, should face a court martial

Four Marine enlisted men and one Army sergeant who caught glimpses of Schwable in POW camps during his ordeal told their stories yesterday — halting fragments that added up to a harrowing picture of what brain washing does to a man

Still Defiant in October

Some told of seeing Schwable in September and October 1952—emaciated unshaven, jittery but nonetheless defiant Schwable had been captured the preceding July 8 He d been thrown into solitary confinement harrassed by constant questioning deprived of food

Diplomatic Victory Claimed in Arranging Asia Peace Conference

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles has undertaken to convince his critics Congress and the country that the United States scored a diplomatic victory in arranging for a conference to discuss peace in Asia.

Dulles returned last night from the Big Four foreign ministers meeting in Berlin, where he agreed to seating Russia and Red China at the conference opening April 26 at Geneva, Switzerland

He obviously was disturbed by some fears expressed in Congress that appeasement might result He told newsmen who met him at the airport that this country got 100 per cent of what it wanted and that the place and composition of the conference are precisely what we sought

Dulles, fatigued after nearly a month of fencing with Russia s V M Molotov faces three days of possibly stiff questioning by congressional leaders of both parties and by the House Foreign Affairs and Senate Foreign Relations Committees He also will report to the nation Wednesday night on radio and TV

Juvenile Judge, Police Officer Talk to Marion Exchange Club

Judge Edward J. Ruzzo of the Probate and Juvenile Court, and Juvenile Officer Virgil Campbell were guest speakers at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Exchange Club Friday at Hotel Harding. The program was in observance of Crime Prevention Week which is being sponsored by the club.

In his talk Judge Ruzzo said that the logical place to start crime prevention is with the juvenile and cited the average age of a criminal as 23 years. The age is at this low point, he added, because of the large amount of juvenile delinquency. Delinquency he said, always increases during war time, due to broken homes and working mothers.

Forces used to combat delinquency in the order of their importance according to Judge Ruzzo are the home, school, church and the community. Home environment, he said, plays a major role in forming the child's attitude toward life and society. Schools aid the child in learning to get along with other people.

The church teaches a moral code and the various youth programs keep the children occupied and off the streets. The community offers such organizations as the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, and YMCA, all of which are designed to make good citizens of our youth.

He commended the ministers of the city for the assistance rendered this program through their counseling services.

Campbell stressed the fact that the aim of his bureau is to assist the youth of the city and prevent them from reaching the criminal stage. He said that every effort is put forth to prevent the child from having a court record which might prevent enlistment in the armed services or rejection by industry upon applying for a position.

Ralph Riddlebarger of the Standard Oil Co. was a guest. Fred Schultz presided.

Elevator

as commissioners of Marion County.

It set March 1, 1954 as the deadline for installation of the elevator, and Jan. 15, 1954, as the deadline for a written report from com-

On July 27 commissioners signed a resolution authorizing the placement of a one-half mill levy on the November ballots as a means of obtaining necessary funds for the elevator's installation. This levy was defeated.

Appeal Filed

In August commissioners filed an appeal, through Prosecutor Ralph E. Carhart, with the Third District Court of Appeals. On Dec. 1, Judges Younger, Guernsey and Middleton convened in Marion and heard the appeals arguments.

As listed in the Appeals Court's opinion, the commissioners' appeal was based on these assignments of errors that the Common Pleas Court:

1) Is without jurisdiction of the subject matter of the order.

2) Is without inherent power over the subject matter or to make this order.

3) Is without jurisdiction or power over to make the subject order.

4) Is without jurisdiction to proceed in this manner in the matter.

5) Erred in denying appellant's motion to delete the testimony of witnesses.

Evidence Summarized

Considering the five assignments of error together in their opinion, Appeals Court judges summarized evidence offered on behalf of the Bar Association motion as follows:

"At each term of court it is necessary to summon from 15 to 25 additional jurors because of the excuses from service which must subsequently be given to prospective jurors who claim they are unable to climb the stairs to the court room on the third floor.

"During the past few years several witnesses have had to be carried to the third floor.

"One lady witness, 45 years old, after climbing the stairs, collapsed just inside the court room door, a physician was called, but she did not regain consciousness, and was removed to the hospital.

"One man witness, 50 years old, collapsed after taking the witness stand, a physician was called, and the court recessed for one hour and a half, but the witness did not respond enough to continue his testimony.

In one case being tried to the court alone, the judge, the attorneys and the court reporter went to the homes of three elderly witnesses who claimed they were unable to reach the court room, and took their testimony in their homes.

County Officials Complain

"County officials subpoenaed from the first or second floors complain of having to carry heavy books and records to the third floor.

"Many witnesses and jurors upon reaching the court room are required to rest a few minutes before proceeding with the business at hand.

"The total valuation of property for tax purposes in Marion County is $118,529,760 with estimated income from general property taxes during 1953 of $271,120 and from other sources, $210,800.

"The cost of an elevator and the shaft for it is estimated between $35,000 and $40,000."

The Appeals Court said it based its action mainly on the case of Zangerle vs. Common Pleas Court, in which the Ohio Supreme Court held that Common Pleas Courts may "exercise control over the courthouse to the extent required to assure the provision, equipment and maintenance in the courthouse of rooms and facilities essential for their proper and efficient operation."

The judges said that "facility" is defined as "a thing that promotes the ease of any action, operation, transaction or course of conduct."

DIES OF BURNS

MOUNT VERNON, Ohio (AP) — Carl Hall died of burns today after he drove a mile yesterday to get aid following an explosion that burned his clothes and seared his body.

Official Answers Critics on Taste of Water in Bucyrus

BUCYRUS — Municipal Waterworks Superintendent Roy Riley said here today that the "bad-tasting" water, about which many Bucyrians have been complaining, was caused by pumping water from the Sandusky River and from the city's old reservoir, where the water supply nearly was exhausted last fall.

Riley explained that the waterworks didn't like to take the river water but that "it was better than no water at all. If we had another eservoir, we wouldn't have to take that river water."

The waterworks superintendent said that the recent "strange" taste in the water was caused when the new reservoir's water supply was reduced and the city started pumping from the old reservoir. He said the old reservoir water supply is being diluted with treated water in an effort to eliminate a somewhat unpleasant taste.

The prosecution has produced a wrench, which Lutz claims was the murder weapon. The defense claims the wrench was used as a paper weight in the Sternbaum office.

Fair Board

seum going to be available for use during the 1954 Marion County Fair?

2. Can the Coliseum be used as th center of fair activities?

3. Is a new building to be constructed this year? If so, of what size, at what location and for what purpose?

4. Is there a long-range fair improvement program?

5. Why not defer construction of a new building now in order to have a more adequate building in the future.

6. Why not bring in state agricultural engineers to advise on long-range building needs.

ANSWERS TO some of these questions were supplied newsmen today by Don Clements, president of the fair board.

He revealed that the board is planning to construct a concrete block building measuring 40 by 100 feet on a site not yet determined.

He said the fair board has the money for such a building, and has received bids on it but he would not say how much money the board is planning to spend on the structure. He said the building would house 4-H Club displays. He said this building was planned because 4-H Clubs had been dissatisfied with Coliseum facilities in previous years.

The fair board president said the Coliseum could be used this year in the same manner as last year, except that cattle could not be brought in it. He said they raised too much dust and that tethering stakes could not be nailed to the floor. He said the ice-making pipes will be covered and would not conflict with fair activities. "The Coliseum has always been for use during fair week," he said.

CLEMENTS SAID the fair board does have a long-range plan for fairgrounds improvements. It all depends on the funds available, he said.

In discussing this proposed new building last night, some of the farm youth leaders expressed the opinion it was planned without relationship to the over-all needs of the fairgrounds.

Rather than building it now, the group favored waiting until a study had been made of future fairground needs.

Other complaints aired centered on the general lack of information on its plans coming from the fair board and the Coliseum board of governors.

Roy Holdridge, a Marion County farmer, complained of the lack of information on use of proceeds from operation of the Coliseum.

COMMENTS WERE MADE to the effect that Marion County was way behind adjacent counties in fair activities and something should be done about it It was also said that with better planning the fair might be made a paying proposition instead of a drain on tax money.

Another criticism was directed at the Coliseum board to the effect that the building ought to be used for the purpose for which it was designed, including the junior fair and high school sports.

The committee appointed by the group to speak for them at the March 1 special meeting of the Fair Board includes James Johnson, Loren Fulton, Ed Parrott, Archie Bishop, Charles Might and Dallas Cornett.

The meeting was attended by County commissioner Luther Mitchell.

Torture

But his attitude toward his Red tormentors was:

"Go to hell."

Former Marine Corp William N. Shockley of Denver, Colo., testified he heard those words ring out in a firm American voice on one occasion when a browbeating, finger - waving interrogator was submitting Schwable to inquisition

And Sgt. 1 C. Pearson O. Porter of League City, Tex., an Army man, told of stronger language used by the Marine officer to a Communist questioner.

"You can spell the word if it embarrasses you," a lawyer told Porter.

"I'm not embarrassed," said the self-possessed porter, and he gave the court the short word he said the colonel hurled at the interpreter.

State Award Given City for Fire Protection

The National Fire Protection Association had awarded Marion an honorable mention among Ohio cities for its activities during national fire prevention week last October, Fire Chief O. A. Sifritt announced Thursday afternoon at a meeting of the fire prevention committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

First place went to Cincinnati; second to Dayton and third to Columbus. Receiving honorable mention besides Marion were Mariemont, Canton and Middletown.

The fire chief said that while no medal or plaque will be given to the city, it is still an award which the citizens of Marion can be proud.

Activites which earned the award included demonstration talks by firemen, distribution of posters in the city and county, sending of education literature to schools, and supplying of films for various civic groups. Perhaps the most spectacular fire prevention week deed, though, was the "Lottery" held each morning to determine who was going to be inspected by firemen. The names of all business establishments were placed in a hat and two names drawn each day. Those drawn were inspected. It added a note of suspense to the otherwise routine inspection.

Chief Sifritt was one of 1 155 fire chiefs in the nation submitting a report on fire prevention week activites to the national organization. The only Ohio cities receiving awards nationally were Cincinnati in cities over 500,000 and Meriemont for towns under 5,000.

Rex Kilbourn, chairman of the fire prevention committee, said that plans were already under way for next October's fire prevention week. Tentative plans have been made for the state fire prevention truck to visit Marion, and to bring speakers and pertinent films to town that week.

Also discussed at the Thursday meeting were plans for "Clean-up, Paint-up and Fix-up Week" to be held some time in April.

Harding Falls 98-73; Irish Win in Overtime Thriller

Fremont Smashes Prexies Despite 41 Per Cent Mark

By JOHN SHORT

The Harding Presidents fell 98-73 last night at Fremont Ross before a savage, relentless offense which Ross Coach Al Ziemke refused to allow to slacken its pace.

Despite the advantage of a 20-point lead through most of the game. Ziemke kept his varsity performers in action almost constantly, using his sixth and seventh men to give the five starters occasional breaks.

With four minutes and seven seconds remaining and with his Little Giants leading 81-60, the Fremont coach gave in to demands of the Ross student body by inserting Paul Anderson into the game. Anderson, a senior, has never won a starting assignment and was making his last appearance at home. After Anderson, part of the Fremont bench strength did see action but two starters were still in when the whistle stopped the Ross bid for a 100-point total.

Defense Ignored

The game was a battle of the offenses with the high-powered Ross attack holding the upper hand. Neither team showed any signs of defensive work. The defensive lapse proved the Prexies downfall. Actually it was one of their top offensive performances of the season. Harding cagers managed to get in 60 shots from the field and dropped in 25 for a commendable 41 per cent average. The Giants blazed away at the basket 103 times, connecting on 37 for a 36 per cent mark. From the foul line Harding hit 23 of 41 attempts.

Dave Schneiker, who paced the Harding attack, shoved the Prexies ahead when he opened the scoring barrage with a jump shot. Henry Tiller knotted the count and after Ron Conroy scored from the foul line for a 3-2 Harding lead and Max Kaelber made it 2-5. Dean Doren took over for the Rossmen. He dropped in three fielders and scored on a charity toss to put Ross ahead to stay. His third goal making the count 9-7 came with 4:04 left in the opening frame.

The Prexies managed to stay close until the final minute of the period when Doren again went wild. The big Fremont forward ended the first quarter with 11 points and the Presidents were behind 20-15.

A spurt of erratic passing and ball handling hit the Harding squad early in the second quarter and Fremont raced to a 10-point lead, 28-18, before the Prexies settled down. The winners hiked that margin to 45-34 at the end of the half although the Presidents rallied midway in the stanza to cut the deficit to 34-32 with two and a half minutes to go. The Harding comeback was sparked by Schnelker and Kaelber. However, Jack Baron led a Ross charge in the closing minutes of the period to boost the Giants back into a 10-point spread.

Harding's Don Smith popped in the longest goal of the game just as the period ended but the officials ruled it didn't count. Smith took a throw-in at the middle of the floor just as the clock ran out, turned and cut loose with a desperation heave. The ball dropped through without touching the rim but it was ruled the buzzer had sounded.

Prexies Blanked

Harding was unable to score during the first two minutes of the third period as Fremont sealed the verdict. Ross had built its lead to 52-34 before Smith finally scored from the foul line. Slightly over three minutes remained before Schnelker hit from the floor for Harding's first field goal. Doug Bibler managed to score the only other fielder of that frame when he hit on a jump shot from the corner. The Prexies also lost the services of Schnelker who contacted his fifth personal foul with a minute and 31 seconds to play. Ted Houghtaling had left on fouls for Ross with half the frame remaining.

Harding's defense picked up briefly at the start of the final frame and the margin was cut slightly on a pair of scores by Ron Conroy, and singles by Bibler and Dave Lockwood. Baron and Miller, still in the game, took over to lead the Ross offense.

Fremont's final goal, boosting the score to 98, came with nine seconds left and the clock killed the bid for 100 points.

Leading the Fremont onslaught was Miller with 30 points. Baron connected for 23, Doren had 19 and Charley Black had 11.

Schnelker Top Man

Schnelker with 16 was high for the Prexies while Bibler chipped in with 12 and Conroy netted 10. Lowell McFann, up from the reserve squad, finished with eight and Lockwood had five.

The Vice Presidents fell before a rally by the Fremont reserves in the last period. Harding trailed 19-14 at the end of the first frame but had held a 30-29 edge at the half and 47-37 advantage at the three-quarter mark.

McFann was the big gun for the Vice Presidents with 18 points, 12 coming from the charity line. Chet King popped in eight points. Chambers showed the way for Fremont with 19.

The game was the last action on the road for Harding this season. Next Friday, the Prexies will entertain Tiffin Columbian in the season finale.

Castellani Eyes Crack at Title, Belts Durando

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP)—Rocky Castellani sought a middleweight title shot today after trouncing Ernie Durando for his eighth straight victory.

"We'll get up whatever guarantee is needed to assure Rocky a crack at either Bobo Olson or Kid Gavilan for Cleveland this summer," said co-manager Alvin Naiman of Cleveland.

If Olson, the 160-pound champion, beats back the challenge of Gavilan, the welterweight king, in Chicago April 2, such an outdoor show seems likely. But if Gavilan takes Bobo's crown, he'll have to give Olson a return bout. That would kill Castellani's hopes for a summer shot.

The No. 1 middleweight contender will be kept busy with fights in Grand Rapids and Akron, meanwhile, said co-manager Tex Sullivan.

It was an easy one all right Castellani had to bottle up Durando's right hand power last night and he did just that. In the ninth, the heavy-fisted Bayonne bomber hurt Castellani with one right to the chin but that was the only good one to the head he got in all night. Rocky fought him right back after it.

Castellani, a 3-1 choice, jabbed, hooked and danced his way to a big lead through the first six rounds. In the seventh, he figured it was time to give the 5,865 fans ($19,355 gross gate) in the garden and the countless TV viewers a show and he opened up with a series of right hand smashes that shook Ernie.

The unanimous vote for Castellani was: Referee Al Berl, 8-2; Judge Harold Barnes, 7-2-1, and Judge Jack Gordon, 9-0-1. The AP card had the Clevelander a 9-1 winner.

Rocky weighed 160¾, Durando 160.

Morral, Waldo Play

Claridon and Prospect Meet For Tourney Title Tonight

Marion County's basketball tournament comes to a close tonight as Waldo faces Morral at 7.30 for the consolation title and Claridon meets Prospect for the championship crown at 9.

Winner of the consolation championship, Prospect and Claridon will advance to the district tournament at either Otterbein College or Capital University.

The championship game tonight looms as one of the best in the tournament. Claridon, using its height to best advantage, has taken three tourney games, defeating Meeker, 44-39; Caledonia, 49-42, and Morral, 49-48.

Prospect, built around the scoring and rebounding of Bob Rodgers and Tom Hickman, has won its tourney games in easier fashion. The Bulldogs have beaten Waldo, 57-48; Green Camp, 72-57, and LaRue, 64-57.

Claridon probably will start the five which stopped Morral in the semi-finals, Gene Jessie and Gail Castle at forwards, Gary Row at center and Dick Pickett and Bud Price at guards. Larry Row and Kenny Smith are first-line replacements.

Prospect is expected to go with Rodgers a center, Don Krawczyk and Jim Mathews at guards and Hickman and either Bob Emery or Ron Wood at forwards. Wood, a regular, missed the last game with flu and Emery replaced him.

Morral's Wildcats are favored to annex the consolation championship over a surprising Waldo team. The Wildcats have beaten Pleasant, 53-47; Martel, 76-25 and Caledonia, 53-49, while losing the Claridon.

Waldo, after losing a first round game to Prospect, has defeated Pleasant, 41-33; Martel, 49-32, and LaRue, 46-45. Forwards Dale and George Yake, center Don Yake and guards Keith Augenstein and Rex Henry or Roy Klingel probably will start for Waldo.

Morral is expected to start the same five which played all the way against Caledonia Thursday night: Clair Hensel and Jim Shiflett at forwards, John Craycraft at center and Junior Bell and Ted Murphy at guards.

NEW YORK (AP) — The NCAA filled another of its basketball tournament berths today when Toledo University, champion of the Mid - American Conference joined the fold.

The tournament now has five teams, two league champions and three at - large quintets. Idaho State, the winner of the Rocky Mountain Conference, is the other league winner, while Seattle, Oklahoma City and Bradley are the at-large outfits.

Toledo scored its clincher last night with a 71-66 victory over Ohio University. With three minutes left, the Rockets were trailing by one point. But Jim Ray hit with a field goal to put them ahead to stay.

Oklahoma City also warmed up for the tournament by polishing off Wyoming 52-40 and thus avenging an early-season upset at the hands of the Cowboys from Laramie.

The Chiefs have been somewhat of a disappointment. Before the season got under way, most experts thought they'd show better than they have. They won seven in a row before losing to Oklahoma A&M, then when they dropped two games to Seattle, they're shining star dimmed.

Still, they could be the dark horse in the tournament, even though the at-large teams must play preliminary round while the conference champions get a bye.

Idaho State, for its part, dropped a 79-72 decision to Montana State. This defeat would have been meaningless except that it snapped the Bengals' 18-game winning streak. The loss was their first since they dropped the first two games of the season to Brigham Young.

UCLA took over undisputed possession of first place in the Southern Division of the Pacific Coast Conference with a 92-77 victory over Stanford. Southern California moved into a second place tie with California by dropping the Bruins, 56-36. UCLA plays Stanford again tonight then winds up operations with two games against Southern Cal.

In the Ivy League, Penn remained on top by defeating Brown 79-67 in overtime to run its loop record to 7-2. Cornell, dogging the Quakers' footsteps, vanquished Yale 76-59. The Big Red's record shows 6-2. They meet in Philadelphia March 6, but the rest of the schedule favors Penn.

George Washington, the scourge of the Southern Conference, was the only team in the top 10 of the Associated Press' Weekly poll to get into action. The Colonials, No. 8, walloped Wake Forest 86-74, to run their season record to 18 victories and one defeat.

In other major games, Seton Hall defeated John Carroll 90-59, Colgate upset Penn State 75-63, Sienna edged St. Bonaventure 62-56. Oregon State turned back Washington State 51-49 and Oregon whipped Washington 63-59.

Middies Edge Big Blue 74-70

By The Associated Press

Butler County, stronghold of Ohio high school basketball, was as much divided today as ever on the merits of the Middletown and Hamilton powerhouses.

Middletown downed Hamilton 81-75 last night at the Cincinnati Garden before 11,864 fans, believed a record in the state for a regular season game.

Earlier in the season Hamilton edged the Middies 74-70.

The two schools could meet again in the Cincinnati regionals and the state class championship may be determined in that struggle. Though both are from the same county, Middletown participates in the tough Dayton district tournament. Hamilton plays in the southwest Ohio district at Cincinnati. Winners of the two regionals then meet at Cincinnati.

If the teams meet, Hamilton will have to devise a method of stopping guard Owen Lawson. He potted 32 points for the Middies' 15th victory in 17 games. The Middletown team ends its season next Friday against Dayton Fairview.

It was the last game for the Big Blue, winners in 17 of 20 tilts.

Hamilton was rated No. 1 in this week's Associated Press poll, Middletown was ranked No. 2.

Lockland Wayne, tops among Class B teams, easily beat North College Hill, 76-41, in the Class B exempted school tournament at Lockland.

Tribe Obtains Dave Philley For Two Untested Hurlers

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland's Indians, trying to boost their power at the plate, traded two young pitchers to Philadelphia yesterday for Dave Philley, an outfielder who batted .303 for the seventh-place Athletics.

Sent to the A's were Bill Upton, who won 10 and lost 7 last season for the Tribe's American Association farm team at Indianapolis, and Leroy Wheat, who had a 0-1 record with Tulsa in the Texas League after returning from military service.

Philadelphia, which said no cash was involved in the deal, added it had trouble trying to come to terms with the 33-year-old Philley.

Hank Greenberg, Cleveland general manager, declared Philley was "fast of foot, a good defensive man and an outstanding hustler, the kind of ball player we've been looking for."

"We've got another solid outfielder who ranks with the best in the American League," Greenberg added. "We've got good pitching so we can afford to give that up."

Philley probably will be the top candidate for right field, ahead of Dave Pope.

Greenberg hinted additional deals may be forthcoming.

Ebert Shooting at New Scoring Record Tonight

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State seeks another Big Ten basketball upset tonight when it meets Minnesota, now in third place in the conference.

Ohio State, with no hope of a first division berth itself, knocked Iowa out of a short-lived conference lead Monday in a 77-69 upset.

Minnesota, with a 7-3 record, is trying to pass Iowa for the second spot. The Gophers will bring a well-balanced team, including Ed Kalafat, Dick Garmaker and Chuck Mencel. Garmaker is only 13 points away from an all-time Minnesota scoring record.

Capt. Paul Ebert of Ohio State is only 26 points away from his own Ohio State season scoring record.

Kenton Nipped In Close Battle By Van Wert

KENTON — Van Wert trimmed Kenton 50-48 here last night in a Western Buckeye League fray, lowering the Wildcats' league record to 3-3- and season record to 8-8.

A slow start by Coach George Keel's forces led to the defeat. Kenton's last-half rally after trailing 28 - 19 at halftime wasn't enough although Kenton led in the final moments of the game and tied the score once.

Van Wert led up to the final two minutes of play when the lead changed hands thrice and Kenton tied the score at 46-46. Four straight points by the Cougars clinched the victory.

Dan Murphy pumped in 16 points for the winners while Jim Bagley added 12 and Heller accounted for 10. Tom Waddle led Kenton scoring with 14 points while J. R. Hickel added 13 and Jim Hogan contributed 10.

Free Throws by Anderson Bring Sudden Death Victory

By GARY SAMS

Mike Anderson calmly swished in a pair of one-handed free throws in a sudden death overtime period to propel St. Mary's Irish to a 47-46 win over Marysville last night in a hectic battle on the Coliseum floor.

The red-headed ace's pair of charity tosses, coming with 10 seconds remaining in the second overtime period, gave the locals two points in the sudden death overtime session and the margin of victory.

First Lose Margin

St. Mary was forced to come behind in both overtime periods after blowing a 10-point lead late in the third period and an eight-point bulge early in the final quarter.

The win concluded St. Mary's season at 13-7, snapping a two-game losing streak, and left the Irish cagers awaiting action in the exempted village and parochial tournament at Westerville Wednesday night against Granville.

Playing a deliberate style of ball most of the way, the Irish pulled ahead 21-19 at intermission and remained in front until the taller visitors rallied in the final two minutes to knot the score at 41-41.

A pair of baskets by Jerry Ballenger, who had come off the bench to replace Jack O'Keeffe in the final two minutes of the last quarter, brought the Irish from behind in the first overtime period and sent the game into the sudden death session.

Ed Nicol, one of four six-footers in the Monarch lineup, had hit from the key at the 2 21 mark and later stole the ball and dribbled down court for a lay-up which shot Marysville ahead 45-41. Then Ballenger put the Irish back in contention, his second fielder of the period going through at 1 25.

Stall Used

The Irish stalled out most of the second overtime session, losing the ball once on a traveling violation and regaining possession seconds later. Going again into a stall the locals controlled the ball for some 40 seconds before missing on an attempt from the field with only 21 seconds remaining in the period and Marysville took over.

Dick Shearer, fouled in backcourt by the pesky Johnny Messenger, dropped in his first free throw attempt with but 18 seconds left in the period but missed on his second. With the Irish trailing 46-45, Anderson was fouled bringing the ball up court and he promptly responded with the pair of charity tosses.

Outrebounded by Marysville, the locals made up for it by stealing the ball away from the Monarchs and hitting on 17 of 45 shots from the field. Both teams were deadly from the foul line, St. Mary sinking 13 of 17 attempts and Marysville hitting on 10 of 13 trys.

The contest was marred by only 22 fouls. Ten were called against the Irish and 12 against Marysville. When the game had ended, Marysville was in danger of losing two players. Nicol and John Fox each had four personals.

Marysville led for most of the first half although the Irish kept right on the Monarchs' heels and tied the score four times. The Irish went ahead for the initial time at 1 07 of the second period when O'Keeffe dropped in a charity toss to break an 18-18 deadlock.

The Irish opened up a 28-21 lead at the 4 08 mark of the third period as Marysville was held to a pair of free throws and pulled ahead 35-25 at the 1 17 mark when Butch Merchant hit from the side.

However, Marysville had trimmed the lead to 35-29 with a pair of baskets in the final half-minute of the quarter and to 35-31 in the opening seconds of the fourth stanza before an Irish rally shoved St. Mary a lead 39-31.

Anderson paced the Irish attack with 17 points hitting on six of 14 shots from the field and on five of five foul shots. Merchant came in with 12 points. John Fox was high for Marysville with 14 points while Nico added 12.

St. Mary's futures were shaded 35-34 in another overtime tilt in the preliminary reserve encounter. The Irish led most of the way before the visiting Monarchs got back in the tilt in the fourth quarter and won it in overtime.

Dave Kraft was tops for the Irish JV's with eight points while Pat O'Connor, Dick Mounts and Richard Micheli all added seven.

Palmer Pacing Field as Third Round Begins

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Johnny Palmer, who thinks Brackenridge Park is the easiest course on the winter tour and illustrated his point by playing it twice in a total of only 127 strokes, headed a field of 90 into the third round of the $12,500 Texas Open today.

The swarthy man from Charlotte, N. C. now in his ninth campaign along the tournament trail, breezed over the 6 400-yard course yesterday in 9-under-par 62 to move into the lead at the halfway mark by a stroke.

In steady pursuit of the top rung was Joe Moore Jr., White Plains, N. Y., who had a 62 in the first round and a 66 in the second for a total of 128.

Marty Furgol of Lemont, Ill., and Lionel Hebert of Erie, Pa., were tied for third place at 130.

Palmer, asked after his blazing rounds which course on the winter tour was the easiest, quickly answered that it was Brackenridge. "The fellow who can putt scores on this one," he said.

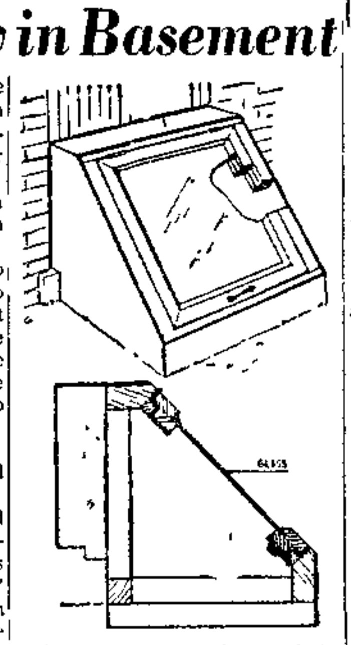
Seedling Hotbed Built For Window in Basement



Some flowers that bloom in the spring call for a winter workout on the part of the home handyman — such as building a hotbed for starting seedlings

A basement window facing south provides a fine location for such a miniature conservatory The hotbed is designed to fit right into the window and to be nailed to the window frame The basement window is kept open to provide warmth for the seedlings while a new window is placed outside of the areaway at an angle to capture the sun's rays

An inexpensive thermometer fastened inside of this hotbed will indicate any need of ventilation

It's easy to frame this hotbed to the dimensions of your basement window by using 2 by 4s and 2 by 2s supporting a 'skin' of tempered hardboard 3-16ths inch thick To form a seat for the hinged slanting window 1 by 1s are nailed around the frame Hardboard wings and top are built to fit into the window opening to seal off cold drafts from the sides

Outside of the window well the hardboard sides and front are carried down and embedded in the soil to a depth of at least 1½ inches to form a seal around the structure

After priming the outside of this hotbed can be painted to match the trim of your house

When properly used this contrivance can give you vigorous plants long before seeds begin to sprout out of doors

Aid for the Ailing House

By ROGER WHITMAN

Q There is a tendency for air to build up in the pipes and radiators of our hot water heating system Can you offer any suggestions?

A It would be advisable to use automatic vent valves on the radiators and if there is any drop in the pitch of the pipe from the boiler to the radiators this should be corrected Sometimes there are elbows in the line that accumulate air These should be equipped with vent valves Some of the manufacturers of hot-water heating specialties make units that are installed at the boiler that will draw off air in the system Your heating man would undoubtedly know about this

Q Will you give me the correct method of painting a room that is which should be painted first—the walls or the woodwork?

A. First comes the ceiling then the walls then the woodwork The floor is last for obvious spilled-paint reasons

Q We live in an old house and recently have developed a roaring noise when the toilet fixture is flushed It sounds as though a rush of air is going through the pipes What causes this?

A. I suspect that the washer or some other part in the water inlet valve inside the flush tank is worn or loose If this is a very old fixture it is likely that a valve replacement will be necessary

Q We recently moved into a house about 65 years old and some of the windows on the outside seem to have a dingy greasy film I've tried scratchless scouring powder and then the liquid windshield cleaner used at service stations, rubbing with steel wool None of these worked and I'm wondering if there's anything else I could try.

A It seems to me that the accumulation has been on the windows so long it has become very hard and will require softening before it will come off Try soaking the windows with kerosene for an hour or two and repeat the soaking before the kerosene dries Normally this should loosen the grime so that it will come off by scrubbing with water containing a little household ammonia and a stiff brush You could follow this treatment with the windshield cleaner if necessary

Numerous Inventions Developed for Homes

By DAVID G. BAREUTHER
AP Real Estate Editor

How to keep informed about new inventions for the home is no more of a problem for the householder than it is for the men who design and build our houses

Virtually every convention of lumber dealers home builders, or architects is accompanied by a sideshow exhibiting the latest wonders in equipment and materials But pastimes other than higher education seem to attract the most attention at conventions So delegates—luckier than reporters — can wait till they get home to read about what's new in the home sideshows

Here is a summary of some of have been on view this season

AN ELECTRIC FUSE that lights up when it blows out and stays lighted until you turn the face of it one notch to a new contact is now on the market It is a repeater fuse with six positions for new contacts — sort of combining the functions of a circuit breaker and ordinary fuse with the signal light added for good measure

Michael L Kaplan head of the manufacturing company producing it tells us that the big advantage of the little neon indicator in this fuse is to avoid shock when fumbling around in the dark to find which fuse to replace The retail price is around 80 cents

Tough and colorful plastic panels are now being made for patio roofs porch jalousies windows or wherever you want light transmission without transparency or glare This material is made out of a polyester resin produced by the chemical division of the United States Rubber Co It looks like an opaque colored glass but does not shatter It is turned out flat, not corrugated

Fibrous glass prevents it from warping denting or rotting It is rated stronger than steel on a pound for pound basis You can saw it with a handsaw nail it screw it rivet it and calk it with ordinary putty Called "Tropiglas" probably because it is being used widely in Florida it is being retailed for less than 75 cents a square foot in four pastel colors and white

THE UNIVERSITY of Illinois Small Homes Council, with a grant from the Lumber Dealers Research Council has developed a new prefabricated panel system for building a house Two men in one day can erect the exterior wall of a one story house of approximately 1 000 square feet in size using these panels, says the U of I

The big advantage is that you can use these panels for a house of almost any design or shape, in contrast to most prefabrication which is tied to a specific take-it-or leave it house plan

The panels were exhibited at the recent convention of Northeastern Retail Lumbermen because they open the way for any lumber yard to get into the prefab business Carpenters on the building site have no studs to cut and fit no sills plates sheathing or siding to worry about A panel with a window goes here a panel with a door there a solid panel someplace else and the walls are up

A new faucet with only one handle to control both the temperature and the force of water has now been developed for sinks bath tubs showers, or wherever you want both hot and cold water The handle is lever-shaped and its position tells you the temperature of the water before you turn it on Only you don t exactly turn it on —you lift it for flow press it down to shut off the flow swing it to the left for hot water to the right for cold and anyplace in between for tempering the water to suit you

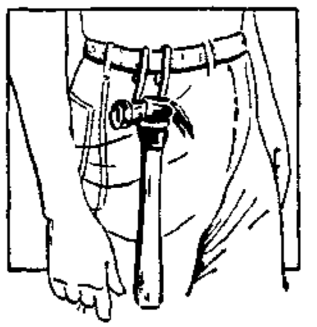
A NEW PAINT called 'Appli-Kay' applied with a new double paint roller can give you a variety of wallpaper designs and variegated colors for painted walls The results are amazing and appear as uniform as designs in wall paper You can get a wood grain effect running vertically or horizontally described by the makers as birchbark on sandalwood Other effects are aptly named homespun and falling feathers

Since this is a cold water rubber base paint you ought to make up your mind to stick with it once you start because it is difficult to paint over it with oil paints

Make Do



TO CARRY a hammer while working on a ladder roof or scaffold bend a piece of heavy wire over your belt and around the hammer to form a handy holder.

Sales Tax Drop 'Storm Signal,' Hays Declares

WASHINGTON (UP) — Rep Hays (D-Ohio) said Friday he has spotted another storm signal of a possible recession—declining sales tax collections in Ohio

These collections, he told a reporter have been off by some $200 000 weekly for the past several weeks He said that is the biggest drop since before World War II

'This is just another case of a trend that the Republicans are ignoring said Hays 'and refusing to do anything about

'We should be preparing for a depression in case this thing gets worse I suggest immediate action on a House bill that lays plans for a public works program '

Hays figured a $200 000 weekly sales tax drop would indicate conservatively a decline in total sales in Ohio of from 10 to 15 million dollars weekly He pointed out many items sold in Ohio are not subject to sales tax

Several weeks ago Hays urged President Eisenhower to classify his southeast Ohio district as a critical unemployment sector eligible for extra defense work

A large percentage of the unemployed there are coal miners and steel workers

The White House replied the Labor Department is surveying the following area Jefferson and Belmont counties in Hays district and Ohio and Hancock counties across the Ohio River in West Virginia

If it is determined this sector has six per cent or more of the working force out of jobs it will be clasified as a surplus labor area.

Bathing Birds' Feet Is Job of Springfield Man

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Dick Patton, 24, is paid to bathe birds' feet on a busy downtown Springfield street corner at night.

The company for which he works smears a gooey substance on building ledges to discourage birds from roosting. The birds become entangled in the goo and fall to the sidewalk. Patton's job is to capture them, wash the goo from their feet and send them on their way.

In four hours last night he attended about a dozen birds. He said it takes about five minutes to spruce up a sparrow or starling Pigeons take longer.

YOUR HOME . . . Today and Tomorrow

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

As most people know, metal flashing is supposed to be over all window or door wall openings This should always be made of copper or other noncorrosive metal, but in present-day building this is not always the case.

Many houses have flashing made of galvanized iron, or plain black iron which has been painted. The life of this type of material is only a few years, and after it rusts through, water will run over the top of the window frame.

It may seem that installing a new flashing is a job for none but the professional. However, it can easily be accomplished by the average intelligent man

The best procedure is to make two wedges of hard wood and drive them up under the board running across the back of the window This will spring the board out sufficiently for you to slip in a new flashing

This should run up in back of the board for at least three inches and should be bent back and down, so as to cover the entire top of the window frame. After this is in place, the wedges can be pulled out, and the board renailed into place

Stars in Track Meet Shooting At New Marks

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK (AP)—Josy Barthel, the Luxembourg swiftie, has nothing left to race except the clock, so that's what he'll do tonight at the National AAU track championships—his last indoor appearance.

Since the start of the indoor season, the meet promoters have been urging Josy, a Harvard graduate student, to try for Gil Dodds' world record of 4:05.3 for a standard 11-lap track. They knew he could do it if he was so inclined and Dan Ferris of the AAU, hopes this is the one. Josy promises nothing.

But Mal Whitfield, who breaks records like an elephant sitting on a juke box, and Horace Ashenfelter, the Olympic steeplechase champion, are not so reticent.

Mal predicts he will wipe out Don Gehrmann's 1,000-yard record of 2:08.2 on the Madison Square Garden boards. He thinks he will be caught around 2:07. That would be some going, since Gehrmann's mark is regarded as a mighty tough one to beat.

Ashenfelter, the FBI agent, set a world two-mile record of 8:50.5 last week, so this time he will move to the three-mile for a shot at Greg Rice's 13:45.7. Last year, he ran the distance in 13:47.5.

Harrison Dillard of Cleveland will go after his eighth straight hurdles championship, with, possibly, some competition from Jack Davis of Southern California. John Haines, the Penn sophomore, will defend in the sprint and Reggie Pearman of the New York pioneer Club, is the favorite in the 600, vacated by Whitfield.

In the field events, Parry O'Brien of Southern California, who has come closer to the 60-foot mark than anyone, is the choice in the shot put; Bob Richards, as usual, is top man in the pole vault; Ernie Shelton of Southern Cal could beat out Herman Wyatt and navy Lt. Ken Wiesner in the high jump and Pvt. George Brown of Fort Ord, Calif. the only 26-foot broad jumper in existence, should win his speciality.

Solution of Yesterday's Puzzle

U.S. Wives Urged To Study Budgets

WASHINGTON (UP) — The top aide to the secretary of treasury says that housewives should understand government finances as thoroughly as they do the family budget.

"After all," said Catherine B. Cleary, "women spend 85 cents of every dollar. They are recipients of 75 per cent of the life insurance. They suffer most if the dollar's purchasing power is cut in half."

Miss Cleary, who started out as assistant to U. S. Treasurer Ivy Baker Priest, was promoted last month to Assistant to Secretary of Treasury George M. Humphrey.

She finds that part of her job is to help explain government financial operations.

She rattles off facts and figures about the Federal budget with the ease of a bank official—which she was until President Eisenhower appointed her. A pretty, blue-eyed blonde with freckles, Miss Cleary is the youngest of the presidential feminine appointees. She looks even younger than her 36 years.

And she has a missionary's enthusiasm about the new "honest money" program.

"The administration," she said in an interview, "is trying to give the dollar a stable purchasing power so it will buy as much next week, next month or next year as it does today.

"To do that," she went on, "we need to balance the budget, let the federal reserve system operate and achieve better management of the national debt."

Almost as soon as Miss Cleary stepped into her job, she started a strenuous speaking schedule that kept her out of Washington fully half her working days. She addressed everyone from financiers to women's clubs.

Miss Cleary was a teacher briefly after she finished college. Then she went back to school, took a law degree and joined a Chicago firm. In 1947, four years later, she moved into the finance field. She became trust officer for the First Wisconsin Trust Co. in Milwaukee.

In Washington, she lives simply in a one-room furnished apartment.

BISHOP TROUBLE

HARTFORD, Conn. (UP)—The switchboard operator at the YMCA is never surprised when someone calls and asks to be connected with the Right Honorable Bishop Holloway. She routinely turns the call over to Bishop Lee Holloway, whose "Diocese" is the Y's maintenance department.

Building on the Rock

A Sermonette

By REV. FLOYD E. KLINE
Pastor of Forest Lawn Presbyterian Church

"He that heareth these sayings of mine and doeth them shall be likened unto a man that built his house upon the rock."—Matt. 7:25

New York City is certainly built upon rock physically; Chicago is not, except as it is supplied by concrete and steel foundation material sunk deep in the earth. Anything enduring lasts because it is not only firm in itself but supported by that which is solid. The Church of Jesus Christ is being solidly built upon that which is like rock. Nothing is so solid and enduring as truth and love and genuine righteousness.

Some people are building on "rock." Many others are not. Ben Dean, past international president of Kiwanis, says recently in "Kiwanis" magaine, that according to "Newsweek" one million boys and girls, between the ages of 10 and 17, in 1952, were in trouble with the police. One in twenty, in the United States. The FBI is reported as saying that more than one half of the arrests for auto theft are for children under seventeen.

WHERE ARE WE to find the reasons for such juvenile delinquency? Autos, movies, etc., in their harmful aspects are credited. More mothers are working and leaving their children to the care of others. The woodshed and the leather strap have been put too much in the discard. We should also point to the increased drinking and smoking among adults, with their deleterious influence upon boys and girls.

It is pointed out, however, by Dean, that "During 1952 more than a million boys and girls visited Kiwanis recreation centers, more than 8,000 baseball and other teams and nearly 6,000 school patrols and other safety programs were sponsored by adults. . . . Our more than 1,000 Key Clubs in high schools exemplify good citizenship in over 20,000 students." In Boston recently 500 students from twenty - two high schools, under Key Club auspices, gathered in Faneuil Hall to combat vandalism in that city.

WE KNOW, TOO, the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts, with their leaders are working powerfully to lead youth into the better things of life. Many other organizations and clubs are promoting the uplift of social conditions.

More people are joining our churches and our missionary enterprises are being extended farther and farther in the earth. More people are being invited and incited to hear and believe in Christ.

Wherever people are taking Christ's words honestly and seriously and actually doing them, uplift and transformation of life is achieved. Anything else, Jesus points out, is sand,—shifting, unstable, weak, disappointing, failing in the crucial test.

WHAT IS MEANT then by building on the rock?

First: It means taking Jesus in earnest; so earnest that we consecrate our lives to Him—no reservations; displacing ourselves; taking His word, His wisdom, His guidance in everything, everywhere, always.

Second: Standing with Him, and for Him under all circumstances, at home, at school, at football and basketball games; in the automobile, at night, alone, in every crowd, club, or "date."

Third: Making every day count for Him; Sunday, The Lord's Day, being of all days the opportunity of the week to worship Him, talk of Him, "go" for Him; marshal all your energies in beautiful service for Him. Every day is priceless opportunity to make your life shine for Him. Saturday night is guarded sacredly as the time to prepare for the Sabbath Day. Late revelry and self-indulgence, no indeed; every day the best ever.

Fourth: Being happy in His will. He healed blind men and made them beam with joy. He healed lame men and made them leap for joy. Jesus touched the sinful woman and made her radiant with purity. His spirit in us makes us happy in His will. He gives us abundant life. The 'water' that He gives us becomes in us a well of living water springing up unto everlasting life and power and beauty. Who can but be happy thus in His will!

Rev. Weaver Organizes Marion Baptist Mission

A schedule of Sunday services has been set up for a new congregation here, the Marion Baptist Mission at 118 N. State St. Rev. Harry L. Weaver of Fredericksburg, at one time a worker at the Akron Baptist Temple, is the pastor. He held a series of revival meetings at the N. State St. address preceding the recent forming of the congregation.

Sunday School is set for 10 a.m., and preaching services for 11:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. Song services will be a part of the meetings and preaching and Sunday School lessons are taken only from the Bible the pastor said.

Democrats Hail New Individual Income Tax Cut

Republicans Are Wary Of Proposal to Boost Personal Exemptions

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democrats in Congress massed jubilantly today behind a new proposal to cut individual income taxes. Republicans, conscious of its political implications, approached the issue warily.

The fresh proposal to provide new tax relief by boosting personal exemptions was sprung unexpectedly yesterday by Sen. George (D-Ga), ranking Democrat on the Senate Finance Committee which handles tax bills.

$800 Exemption

George suggested that the personal exemption be raised from the present $600 to $800 this year and to $1,000 next year. He said he viewed such action as a necessary anti-recession measure.

The George proposal goes much farther than a like idea sponsored by Democratic members of the House Ways and Means Committee. These House Democrats suggested that the personal exemption be hiked to $700—but they were beaten 15-10 by the Republican majority on the committee which now is busy overhauling the nation's tax structure.

A number of House Democrats have made it plain they will fight for their plan when the tax revision bill reaches the floor in about two weeks. They hailed the George proposal and said it would make their battle an easier one.

Tax legislation must originate in the House. The George proposal, however, could be added to the tax revision measure when it comes to the Senate.

Would Cost 4½ Billion

The George plan would be of most help to large families and those with low income.

It has been estimated to cost the Treasury about 4½ billion dollars this year and eight billions next year.

Accordingly, it would complicate the Eisenhower administration's budget-balancing problems. Under the Eisenhower tax program, the deficit for the fiscal year ending June 30 would be about $3,300,000,000 and about $2,900,000,000 next year. The George plan would more than double the deficit now anticipated for next year, unless some offsetting measures were adopted.

But George said in an interview he is not as concerned about balancing the budget as he is about fighting unemployment and a business decline.

"If we are courageous enough to take this forward-looking step before the economy falls on its face," he told the Senate yesterday, "we can be of some service to the country."

Man Held Here Turned Over to Federal Court

James Hornsby, 21, of West Mansfield has been turned over to federal authorities on a charge of stealing and fraudulently cashing a government check by city police here.

He was turned over to the U. S. Marshal for appearance in federal court at Toledo Thursday after he was fined $50 and costs on a petty larceny charge here and committed to the county jail.

Hornsby was arrested by city police on Feb. 12 on a warrant signed by Charles Halladay of 131 Plymouth St. charging him with stealing cash and an electric fan and electric iron while rooming there.

Shortly before, Virgil Saunders of 707 Bennett St. reported to police that a government check for $50 had been taken from his mailbox, naming Hornsby as a possible suspect.

Dr. Charles Harding of the Harding Sanatorium in Worthington will be speaker for the March 16th meeting, it was announced. This will be a joint meeting with Pearl Steeet PTA.

Group entertainment was in charge of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Howser and during the social hour the entertainment was by the first grade.

The first grade, taught by Mrs. Jean Maloney, won the attendance award and second honors went to the sixth grade taught by Mrs. Opal Parmer.

Jury Acquits Edington on Second Trial

After deliberating a little over an hour Friday afternoon, a Common Pleas Court jury acquitted Howard Earl Edington, 23, of 358 Milburn Ave., on charges of breaking and entering and attempting to open a safe.

The jury received the case just before 4 p.m., after hearing two days of evidence, and returned the verdict at 5:15 p.m. A previous jury on Jan. 29 failed to reach unanimous decision, as required by law in criminal actions, and was dismissed by Judge Paul D. Smith.

Edington was indicted by the grand jury and charged with breaking and entering the Stag Bar and Grill at 462 W. Center St. on Dec. 11 and attempting to open a safe.

Last summer Edington was acquitted by another Common Pleas jury on charges of breaking and entering and criminal assault of a 17-year-old Marion housewife.

Representing Edington in this week's court action was Frank W. Phillips, his court-appointed attorney.

Confident Living

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

How To Live Without Tension

DR. PEALE

One day not long ago, I went to Philadelphia for a meeting of a board of which I am a member. I took a train that should have brought me to the station there just in time to get to my meeting. Unfortunately it was late, and I came dashing out of the station looking for a taxi in quite a hurry.

I started for the first cab in line, but someone else got there first. I dashed for the second, and again a man got in right in front of me. Finally, I managed to get into the third and sank into the back seat half-exhausted.

"Where to?" asked the driver.

I told him.

"Are you in a hurry to get get there?"

"Oh, yes," I told him. "I have to get to a meeting and I'm late."

"You're puffing," he reminded me. "You shouldn't puff that way. A man your age ought to take it easy."

I WAS SURPRISED and a bit indignant. "What do you mean? A man my age! What's the matte with my age? I'm practically a youngster."

"You don't want to kill yourself getting to that meeting. Nothing can be that important. Easy does it, you know."

I thought for a minute and said, "I guess you're right—it isn't that important."

"Well, don't worry," he told me. "We'll get you to that meeting all right."

We started off and he kept talking all the time. "You know," he said, "there's a minister who writes a column in the paper here every Sunday. He says that this hectic driving of yourself and being in a hurry all the time is what gets people sick."

THEN HE WENT on and quoted to me everything I had said in my last column. You can be sure that, when I got out of the cab and paid him, I tried to keep my face turned away. I don't know whether he had ever seen a picture of me, but, believe me, that was one time I didn't want to be recognized.

I went upstairs to my meeting and found that they were still reading the minutes of the last meeting, something not very important. I could have been even five minutes later and it wouldn't have mattered a bit.

I decided to practice what I preach a bit better. I certainly try to do that and there are times when I am reminded quite forcefully of just how important this is. Just this month I have lost three of my best friends. They died of high blood pressure, high tempo, heart trouble. And only today I had a letter from the wife of another friend who has just offered a wonderful new job. Tragically enough, he can't accept it because he has developed heart trouble.

"I wish you could tell me what's wrong with him," his wife writes. "He is so excited and tense all the time. Maybe now he will have to be quiet for a while and get the healing peace of God back into his life."

A GREAT DOCTOR, William Osler, once advised a medical college graduating class somewhat as follows:

"When a doctor comes into a sickroom, no matter how bad the case may be, he must come in bringing poise and quiet confidence. He must not be apprehensive, or at least he must not show it. He must regard himself as master of the situation; he must meet every variable in the situ tion with composure. And the way a doctor lives is the way that all must live."

The best rule for living without tension is to practice confidence in your religious faith. Each day do the best of which you are capable. Practice doing it quietly, calmly and easily. Leave the results to God, casting all your care upon Him. I'm not going to rush any more. I appreciate the lesson I learned from that Philadelphia taxi driver.

New Course Suggested

Larger Driver Training Program Recommended

Principal Cecil W. Gabler of Harding High School has asked the Marion Board of Education to authorize a new six-week classroom course in driver training to supplement the present program.

Gabler recommended the course, to be given to all students in their sophomore year, after a driver survey at Harding revealed only 21 per cent of student drivers had taken the present course. Only 8 per cent of boys with licenses and 42 per cent of the girls took the course, the survey showed.

TO INCLUDE the course in the school program, Gabler has asked for modification of the boy's and girl's health program, now required of all sophomores for one semester.

The course is to be taught without the driver training car. Films, miniature cars and a driver's manual would be used to teach road responsibility and regulations.

Other instruction in the proposed course will include traffic legislation and regulations, mechanics and physics of driving, road situations and how to solve them, car care, signals and road signs, pedestrian, bicycle and motorcycle regulations and driving courtesy.

GABLER ALSO suggested retention of the present program and addition of a second driver training car or driving instructor. This recommendation was to allow more students to fit driver training into their schedules.

The recommendations came after a questionnaire survey of all licensed Harding drivers was conducted to evaluate the present program. The survey showed present facilities can accommodate only 72 students a year and that about one-fifth of the student body had taken the course.

Since three-fourths of the 380 student drivers at Harding received licenses at the age of 16, they knew how to drive before the course was offered. Of the boys, 81 per cent had licenses at 16 compared with 65 per cent of the girls.

ASKED TO SUGGEST improvements in the present program, the students ranked "expanded driver education" first. Other suggestions were organization of auto clubs for student drivers, stricter traffic legislation, stricter enforcement and more difficult driver's tests.

The survey also showed that: (1) 90 per cent of student drivers are in the 11th and 12th grades; (2) 80 boys and no girls own their own cars; (3) 40 per cent of the student body depends on private cars for transportation to school; (5) the average distance driven to school is two miles, and (6) the median age of cars driven by students is 4 years.

Of the 26 boys and no girls charged with one traffic violation, only six had two violations, the survey indicated. None had three violations.

Students ranked "getting to work" as the main reason for operating a car. Getting to school ranked second, followed by pleasure, necessity of modern living and "to transport parents unable to drive."

Church Women's Group Gives Program on Migrant Workers

When the Marion County Council of Church Women met Wednesday at First Presbyterian Church, members gave an offering of $20 for migrant work.

A message on migrants from Mrs. Charles Bruno, state chairman of migrant work for United Church Women, was presented by Mrs. Leo Keller, and Mrs. Darrell Vermillion, local world missions chairman, told of ways World Day of Prayer funds have been used, for women's work and education in the Orient. She showed a film-strip, "World Day of Prayer Around the World" portraying the 1952 observance as it started in the Fiji Islands and continued around the globe closing in St. Lawrence Island in Alaska. World Day of Prayer this year was announced for March 5 with local observance at Calvary EUB Church. Mrs. Fred Dutt presided.

Members Welcomed

The meeting was held in the host church chapel and Mrs Ralph Heischman, president of the Presbyterian Women's Association, welcomed the group. She presented Mrs. Gerald Jennings who played piano selections, "Romance," Brahms, and "Prelude in C Sharp Minor," Rachmaninoff. The ushers, Mrs Glenmore Hawkins, representative to the council, and Mrs. G. C. McCreight, hospitality chairman, gave each one present a small silhouette of George Washington or red hatchet as a means of identification and of getting acquainted. Mrs. E W Warwick led singing of "Come Holy Spirit Heavenly Dove" to introduce her devotional theme of "The Holy Spirit." Scripture was verses from the first chapter of First Corinthians. She presented the thoughts that "Most of us have a vague feeling about the Holy Spirit which we think of as a 'burning bush' or a 'dove.' The Holy Spirit is God at work in each one of us, moving in our hearts and in the world."

Because of World Day of Prayer, there will be no other council meeting in March. A workshop was announced for April 23 at the Presbyterian Church in Bucyrus.

Migrant's Life described

In the presentation concerning migrant workers it was brought out that to the migrant "home" is where the crops are ripe. The families work just as long as the crops last, and if the weather is bad or the crops are short, the migrant is the loser. The average work year is 101 days.

Migrant work in Ohio starts with beets, setting out of tomato plants, and picking of peas, strawberries and cherries, then the workers go north to Michigan for the strawberries and cherries, then back to Ohio to harvest the sugar corn and to pick tomatoes, and any other crops that need their labor. Last year, work with the migrants was concentrated in Wood County at Pemberville, Perrysburg, North Baltimore and camps at certain crossroads points in the county, and around Fremont and Norwalk where a canning plant is located.

Each camp needs at least one teacher to be a Spanish speaking person, for many of the migrants can speak no English. The teachers are for the most part college students who are training for religious or social work. Usually two students work together. These workers need a station wagon or "Harvester" which they can equip with games, films, books, first-aid kits, and "worship centers." An effort is being made by Ohio Church women to provide the "Harvester" in the interest of efficient "mission" work in the migrant field.

Iberia Benefit Slated

IBERIA—The Federated Church choir here is sponsoring a benefit tonight at the school cafeteria, according to Gerald Bosh, president of the choral group.

A committee consisting of Betty Edgar, Esther McAnall, Marjorie Kerr and Lucille Hayes will supervise a club supper from 5 to 8 p.m.

Funds derived from the affair will be used to purchase pews and install extra lighting equipment for the church.

COME TO CHURCH SUNDAY

GOD NEEDS YOU — YOU NEED GOD

Here's why Mothers like to dine with us every Sunday

In the average home Mother is responsible for 1,095 meals every year, Three a day times 365 gives you the figure.

Dining out just once a week, for Sunday Dinner, relieves her of one of the most exacting jobs of the week, the preparation of Sunday Dinner for one or a half dozen children, in addition to Father.

Like the home permanent folks who say they have curlers for those who are two or 102, we have a menu each Sunday that will fit the most exacting appetites from the little tots on up to Grandparents.

Give Mother and the children just 52 meals away from home each year and you will be a hero. Do have dinner with us Sunday. Remember, Duncan Hines, the greatest connoisseur of food in this country, has recommended just one restaurant in Marion—the Hotel Harding Coffee Shop.

Sunday Hours:

Open Sunday morning at 8:00 a.m. with a hot and tempting Breakfast Menu. Serving Dinner continuously from 12:00 noon 'til 7:30 p.m.

Marion's only restaurant recommended by Duncan Hines

Democrats Make Plans For Burke's Campaign

By JAMES B. SIBBISON

WASHINGTON (AP)—Quietly, the Democrats are drawing their plans for support of Sen. Burke in his bid for election to a full term in Ohio's November election.

"We're not saying anything about it yet," said an official at the Democratic National Committee. "We want them (the Republicans) to think they have it won.

"We have not assigned any speakers to the Ohio campaign. But later there will be other senators and ex-cabinet members in the state speaking for Burke.

"And we're hoping that we get called Communists (by Republicans) a few more times. People don't believe that. We think it is helping us a great deal, rather than hurting."

So far, Burke himself has been rather moderate in his Ohio speech-making. Queries to his office about his campaign plans get this reply "Wait a while. We'll have plenty for you later. It's too soon for heavy campaigning."

However, Burke had speech schedules in Ohio during the past few days. So did his potential Republican opponent, George H. Bender.

Bender, who has William Saxbe as a primary opponent, is considerably ahead of Burke in touring Ohio at this point.

He has already hit Cleveland (seven speeches), Toledo, Bowling Green, Bryan, Canton, Dayton and Columbus. He has three television programs coming up shortly and plans talks soon in Steubenville, Columbus, Athens, Galion and Bucyrus.

Everywhere he goes, he says, the reaction to his candidacy has been "excellent." He won't discuss Saxbe, who has discussed Bender a lot.

"Oh, I see Saxbe once in a while in Ohio," says Bender, "but only to say 'hello' to."

Will the late Sen. Taft, whose seat is at stake in this campaign, be an issue?

Burke has said he thinks Taft was a great man. A Democratic National Committee spokesman said the other day: "You won't find any of our people jumping on him."

But Bender insists Taft will be an issue.

WOMAN SLAYER SENTENCED

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — Miss Annie Ruth Collier, 25, confessed slayer of Henry Simmons, 27, of New Miami, was sentenced yesterday to an indeterminate term in the Marysville Reformatory for Women.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The prosecution's chief witness has married the defendant, presenting a special problem for the district attorney's office in the trial of a former county employe.

A wife cannot testify against her husband.

UAW Charges Of 'Short Week' Refuted by GM

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors says its scores of thousands of hourly employes are working "more than 40 hours per week on the average."

The company also says it has 30,000 more persons on the payroll in the United States than it had at this time last year and that many of its plants are working overtime.

Reduced work weeks in some assembly are expected to be temporary, the company said.

The corporation made the statement Thursday in a comment on its labor lineup after the CIO United Auto Workers had complained over what they called GM's "short work weeks—or share the work schedules."

The union, in a letter to GM President Harlow H. Curtice, asked the company to readjust schedules in order to provide "40-hour work weeks for regular employes."

It complained over what it called "widespread short work weeks' for regular workers. The union said GM at the same time has hired new employes and instituted second shifts in some plants.

"This is causing a sharing of the misery," said the union

John W. Livingston, UAW vice president in charge of the union's GM department, wrote the letter to Curtice.

Livingston said GM employes are "aware of overstocked (car) dealers' show rooms" and "recognize that the bloom is off the boom."

The union official added GM workers "should not be required to bail out the corporation on the basis of vague hopes for increased sales this spring" or "underwrite an anticipated spring auto race between Chevrolet and Ford." GM makes Chevrolets.

Accidents cause about 100,000 deaths a year in the United States.

Financier Young Would Put Woman On Board of NYC

WASHINGTON (AP) — Financier Robert R. Young said Friday if he wins his fight for control of the New York Central Railroad he intends to install (a) roller bearings on the cars and (b) a woman on the board of directors.

Young has been conducting a running verbal fight with New York Central President William White, particularly since the railroad's board of directors last week refused to install Young as board chairman. He is now waging a proxy fight in an attempt to take over control when the line's stockholders meet May 26

Young, former board chairman of the Chesapeake and Ohio, said in a filmed television interview with Columnist - Commentator Drew Pearson he has told White interests of Central's security holders "would be much better served if he (White) had a stock ownership . . . instead of a 10-year contract" as president.

"This first thing he did was to go off to Europe for six weeks," Young continued, "and now with that contract in his pocket he can quit worrying about the New York Central stockholders, whereas if he had a stock option, or had an investment in New York Central stock . . . he'd be interested not in a 10-year contract, but he'd be interested in making the stock go up."

Ike's Commission On Traffic Safety To Guide Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) — A newly created President's Action Committee for Highway Safety Friday, assumed the guidance of a nationwide campaign to reduce the automobile death toll

Gov. Dan Thornton of Colorado, one of eight members so far named, called the President's action "the greatest forward step in years" toward reducing the hazards of the highways

For the first time, Thornton said, the permanent advisory group will provide a "direct line of coordination from the White House to the grass-roots efforts of the communities"

Vice President Nixon announced Eisenhower's action late yesterday to the White House Conference on Highway Safety. Nixon said the President was "vitally interested" in the accident problem which cost 38,300 lives last year.

It Started With Washington

It was pointed out by George Washington's latest successor in the American presidency a few days ago that his illustrious predecessor was the victim of political slander. But there is more to be pointed out than this ageless tendency of disputants to launch personal attacks.

George Washington was not hurt, because he knew how to deal with slanderers.

One of the important things to be reviewed each year when the birthday of George Washington is commemorated is the first president's precedent for dealing with criticism. He disliked his critics intensely and resented them bitterly when they misrepresented his motives.

But he withstood criticism patiently. He yearned to be free from it. But he recognized it as the price leadership must pay for the privilege of being chosen to guide a government based on the sovereignty of all the people—the ordinary and the extraordinary, the good and the bad.

George Washington started the tradition of presidential dignity and reserve. He proved that the first citizen of a republic can rise above the meanness and bitterness of his contemporaries by refusing to become personally involved in their quarrels.

The lesson he taught was not learned by all his successors. It does seem to have been learned by Dwight Eisenhower, who resembles Washington in the fact he did not reach the White House as a politician but as a soldier does not think of himself as a partisan but as the chief executive of a federation of states including all shades of partisanship.

Employment Is Local

Secretary of Commerce Weeks showed courage in releasing an unemployment total compiled by a new method. Since it was larger than the total compiled by the old method, critics charging that the Eisenhower administration is ruining war-boom prosperity will demand that the new method be made official.

But there is a good effect from knowing that all methods of obtaining these statistics which are watched so closely are subject to gross error. They are statistical monstrosities, no more to be relied on than any other estimates produced by sampling handfuls of people and projecting the results into national estimates.

The fact always has been and always will continue to be that jobs are local. The only employment total that means anything — the only unemployment total that means anything—is local. It is of no significance that a statistical projection might show a normal rate of employment for the whole country if everything has gone haywire in scattered sections of the country.

An unemployed wage earner in Punxsatawney, Pa., is no less in distress after reading that employment on the national average is only a few percentage points under normal for this time of year — especially if "this time of year" is six weeks before another feature of this kind of statistical gobbledygook.

It took an upset in a presidential election to show what was wrong with the sampling method of making guesses in politics. It may take the end of war-boom prosperity to show what's wrong with the sampling method of guessing about nationwide employment.

Jobs and wages are local, like the businesses which account for them.

Beeson and the Wolves

When Albert C. Beeson, a West Coast industrial relations director, was appointed to National Labor Relations Board last January 7, no one could see what was coming.

Beeson would have backed away if he had known what was ahead.

The wolves of the opposition in the U.S. Senate decided to tear Beeson to pieces as a demonstration of power. They concentrated on his reluctance to give up his pension rights from his employer as a condition for serving on NLRB.

The tied him up in confusion when he was undergoing their inquisition. They accused him of prevarication when his answers revealed inconsistencies which he personally explained were the result of his confusion.

The attempted to lay down a principle that no citizen could be assumed to be an impartial member of NLRB if he ever had represented the employers' side of the issue between unions and management. They tried to make it appear that a conflict of interest would ensue if an appointee retained pension rights with a private employer while working for the government.

This was outrageous because Beeson at 47 has no intention of making a career of bureaucracy and intends to return to private enterprise.

His confirmation finally was voted Thursday, 45 to 42 — a party-line vote, with three Democrats coming over to the Republican side to make a majority. There is no reason why Beeson should not be an impartial member of NLRB. But he has leaned in his first brush with Washington that impartiality is a quality imported from the outside. There is none among the insiders.

Sincerity Challenged

By David Lawrence

Full Explanation Needed in Manion's Dismissal

Freedom of speech for government officials has been dealt another crushing blow — this time by President Eisenhower himself, who ordered Clarence Manion, chairman of the Commission on Intergovernmental Relations, dismissed without a hearing and without specifying any cause of removal.

It was leaked in some news dispatches about three weeks ago that the White Hous didn't like Manion's views on the proposed Bricker amendment and was planning to "fire" him.

Only three months ago the President was telling his press conference that government employes would not be dismissed without a chance to confront their accusers and that he would not put the stigma of dismissal on anyone until there had been ample opportunity for the accused to know the charges made against him.

Clarence Manion, former dean of the law school of Notre Dame, was given no such opportunity. He was called to the White House by Sherman Adams, presidential assistant, on February 12 and told that he ought to resign. When pressed for reasons, Adams said the matter had already been decided and there was no use going into that subject.

IT WAS INTIMATED that some of the members of the commission were dissatisfied and wanted the action taken, but no particulars as to the identity of these persons were given.

When Manion returned to the commission for its regular meeting on Wednesday of this week and told the members what had happened, several expressed indignation and a resolution was unanimously adopted which expressed cinfidence in Manion and regret that he had resigned.

Manion, who was for 25 years professor of constitutional law at Notre Dame University, was appointed last August to be chairman of the commission to study federal and state and municipal relations.

He told the President he would have to keep some speaking engagements during the term of his service.

Manion's views on the Bricker amendment were well known at the time, as he was one of the originators of the movement to amend the Constitution to prevent abuse of the treaty-making power. He has since continued to express his views, but he engaged in no other activities, such as contacting senators or making speeches on the Bricker amendment, which in any way were related to his work on the Ingergovernmental Commission. The commission's work is largely of a legal research nature.

MANION IS convinced an attempt was made to punish him solely for the views he expressed on the Bricker amendment. It's a form of "thought control" which many "liberals" have been inveighing against as they argue that dissent has been frowned on by government and that a man is penalized nowadays for honest expressions of opinion.

Certainly it seems on its face to be a palpable attempt to secure "conformity" of thought, which lately has been denounced by "liberal" spokesmen as a phase of dictatorship.

Because Manion happens to favor the Bricker amendment, it is doubtful whether the so-called "liberals" on Capitol Hill will take up his cause and harass the President to give details, as they have been urging in connection with the demand for data on the 2,200 security risks separated from government service.

What makes the case of Professor Manion so deplorable is that the White House knew his viewpoint before he was appointed and knew also of his papers and addresses on legal aspects of the Constitution.

There are 25 members of the Intergovernmental Commission of which he was chairman, and they were selected, in accordance with an act of Congress, on a Bipartisan basis. Manion was appointed as part of the Democratic party

ON THE SAME commision, for example, are Sen. Schoeppel, an outspoken supporter of the Bricker amendment, and Sen. Humphrey, an opponent of the amendment. There are other members of Congress on the commission. Is it to be presumed that they are not to express their views on questions outside the purview of the Intergovernmental Commission's work?

There are on the commission Gov. Shivers of Texas and ex-Governor Battle of Virginia.

Would they be disqualified from membership if they spoke before bar asociations on the problem of states' rights and limitations of the federal Constitution?

It is being said that the President has a right to expect harmonious expressions and active support from the members of the executive branch of the government.

The many special commissions being appointed are temporary bodies to which are delegated specific tasks of gathering information. They are in no sense part of the policy-making departments of the executive branch of the government.

It will be a sorry day for the White House if every time a person accepts membership on a governmental commission he must consider himself gagged from expressing any views on all other subjects in which there is a public interest.

MANION IS ONE of the leading exponents of states' rights in the country and, when he was appointed last year, he said on leaving the White House that he was delighted that the president was interested in revitalizing the constitutional rights of the sates.

If Manion's views on states' rights in any way embarrassed the White House, this should have been taken into account when he was first appointed and, if this was the reason for dismissal, ordinary courtesy should require that he be told that reason frankly.

Eisenhower hitherto has not seemed the kind of man who would "fire" a government employe without a hearing.

An explanation of all the facts would seem logical, lest many persons in both parties who agree with Manion's views begin to believe the administration's sincerity has been challenged.

By TRUMAN TWILL

Dear Nephew: We have had our first picnic for 1954. The other day when we had that preview of spring I suggested we go out to the sugar camp and broil a couple hamburgers.

We tried a new wrinkle on gracious living in the great outdoors. Next time you want to show how smart you are on a picnic, take along some of this new aluminum foil. Get the heavy grade. Wrap up your hamburgers in the foil and lay them in the fire. When you think they're done, unwrap them. Best stuff you ever ate.

This is an old stunt now among campers and Boy Scouts. But your aunt and I, being old-timers, never had tried it before. Made us wonder if we'd been born 75 years too soon. You can do a whole chicken this way.

We sat around the fire and talked until nearly 10 before the conversation wore out. We were wondering about normal times. We recalled some of the normal times we had experienced here at the Corners.

The trouble was, no one thought of them as normal when they occurred. It was only by hindsight they seemed normal, just as today there are people who go back to the years before World War II for normal times when in fact we were living in a series of national emergencies throughout the thirties.

Goodness knows, the twenties were not normal times. So I suppose you have to go back to the early years of the century, and believe me those weren't normal times for those who lived in them. It amounts to saying that times are never normal until they are the dear dead days beyond recall.

One of the troubles right now is that people are thinking of war as normal. That is where a line must be drawn because it certainly isn't normal for people to be dragged from their homes and exposed to unusual dangers and even death so other people can be kept prosperous making guns, ammunition and things to be blown up and junked.

Do you want to know what we decided? We decided normal times were when ordinary people living in ordinary circumstances could go to bed at night without wondering what extraordinary thing would probably happen the next day.

We decided the test of whether or not you were having normal times would be whether or not most of the people we knew could have their blood pressures taken without causing the doctor to look startled.

We decided that when people were grousing only about the things people usually grouse about, that would be the sign that times were normal. Then we decided that times were normal. Then we decided that as such things go these must be normal times. People who are saying it is a national emergency and all is lost should look back at some of the emergencies which have preceded the "emergency" we're having now.

Unless they want to run the risk of saying we cannot have normal times without casualty lists, they'd better be ready to prove that things are not as normal now as they are likely to be.

Incidentally, are you going to come up to help us some day with the syrup when the sap begins to rise in the sugar maples? We can always use a spare hand to rinse out glasses and put more logs on the fire. Think it over. The sugar camp is a fine place to be in the springtime.

Subsidizing Overproduction

By Raymond Moley

Over and over in the past few years internationalists in the State Department, in happy collaboration with like-minded officials in foreign governments and in the United Nations, have forwarded a movement to create international commodity agreements.

Such agreements, reduced to their bare essentials, mean controls thrust into our domestic economy and immense outlays by our government for the building-up of what are called "buffer stocks" of raw materials.

One need only examine such documents as the Havana Charter, the so-called "Green Book" of the Mutual Security Agency, the record of the International Materials Conference, and the more recent Paley Report to see the pattern of economic internationalism.

The 600 million dollar Wheat Agreement, now condemned by the Randall Commission, is an example of the perfected work of such a project.

THE STORY of an attempt to engineer a similar rubber agreement is an example of an effort that so far has failed.

For three years there have been conferences at an international level concerning the creation of an international rubber cartel—a buffer stock scheme — desiged to raise the price of crude rubber.

Representatives of the great producing and consuming countries—in this case the British, United States, and Netherlands governments — set up an International Rubber Study Group to discuss rubber problems and to keep the world rubber situation under continuous review. Annual meetings were held.

In May, 1953, the management committee gathered in Copenhagen for the purpose of "securing accord on the outstanding points in the draft buffer stock agreement."

Most recently, the committee met in London, in October, and its findings and a draft agreement were forwarded to member governments.

THE BUFFER stock idea would be self-defeating. Trends in Indonesia and Malaya already have demonstrated how even anticipation by these countries of U. S. participation in such a plan increases production.

There is little doubt that such a plan, by raising the price of crude rubber, would further stimulate both crude rubber and synthetic rubber production.

This would require additions of ever-growing surpluses to the buffer stock until the United States would be groaning under a monumental burden. The cost to the American taxpayer might dwarf even the International Wheat Agreement.

In May, 1953, the Rubber Study Group thought that natural rubber would enter 1954 under the weight of a surplus of nearly 20,000 tons.

Present estimates are more encouraging, however. World production fell off slightly while consumption rose and American strategic purchases continued.

FORTUNATELY, a president's commission has finally put a stamp of disapproval on this plan. The Randall Report states that extensive resort to commodity agreements will not solve the problem of price instability and that such agreements introduce restraints that impair "the elasticity of economic adjustment and the freedom of individual initiative, which are fundamental to economic progress."

The British weekly "Economist" commented shortly after the report's publication that "This year the natural rubber industry must work its own passage, since the Randall Commission's objections to commodity agreements have killed any lingering hopes of stabilizing the price by an international buffer stock scheme."

Wonder Drugs From Coal

By THOMAS R. HENRY

Soft coal seams have yielded two potent new antibiotics, one of which fights fungi and the other bacteria, the American Association for the Advancement of Science has been informed.

Both materials were extracted from the so-called "vitrain" bands in coal seams, notable for their reddish or yellowish color. The seams are probably wood which has lost its cell structure, but has not quite completed the millenia-long transition into soft coal.

Production of the fungistatic substance was reported by Norman C. Schenck of the University of Illinois. He has tested it against eight fungi, including such virulent enemies of plant life as bitter rot in apples and serious diseases of oak and elm trees.

Two of these varieties were killed outright. The other six were prevented from spreading by means of spores. Schenck reported finding that the cells apparently were unable to divide for a period of about 12 hours after application of the coal extract.

Report on the weapon against bacteria was made by Robert M. Kosanke of the Illinois Geological Survey. He found the antibiotic quite efficient in preventing the cell division of at least one common type of bacteria.

This renders the bacteria ineffective. The result may be quite general through the whole kingdom of single-celled plant life.

That vitrain was potent against disease was first suspected in England two years ago when it was noted that the incidence of pneumoconiosis, a bacterial disease of the lungs most common among coal miners, was far less prevalent among workers in mines with the colored streaks prominent in the seams.

The chemical nature of both substances is still a mystery. They are extracted from finely ground vitrain by a complex chemical process.

The substances either are lacking in or cannot be extracted from harder coal, it is reported. They are believed to be formed in some way during the long, highly complex and still little understood metamorphosis of wood into coal.

A substance has been extracted from both living and fossil wood which has some bacteriostatic action, but it may be quite different from the material found in coal.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Watch Your Step My Eye!

Actors' agents are now refusing to take performers who are without injuries and have no accident-ward ratings. First it was Godfrey's hip, then Gleason's ankle and now Garroway's assorted bruises and contusions.

The fellows who announce time out for station breaks are now announcing time out for performers' "breaks." Bob Hope appeared on TV the other night (pbangadeed and his TV rating took a big drop. Jimmy Durante is practically under a news blackout because he isn't in a plaster cast.

The trend points toward a merger of the TV comedy hours with Johns Hopkins Review. Accidents have become so prevalent among TV actors that there might well be a new program called "Bank the BREAKS."

It baffles us. Until lately the greatest actors in show business could suffer a minor fracture or a few bruises without more than a routine notice. Suddenly the key to success has become a matter of falling on your face. The Fall of Rome didn't get as much publicity as the Fall of Gleason. Sarah Bernhardt lost a leg with less publicity.

All through theatrical history you could get an entire theatrical company, including musicians and press agents, into a train wreck without attracting anywhere near the attention a TV comic gets if he sprains a toe or dislocates his pinkie.

"He stopped the show," a critic tells you. You ask how and get the answer, "He sprained his ankle." O for the days when an entertainer had to be wholly an entertainer to get national publicity, his press notices never getting better if he was OUT OF THE SHOW!

The Jolsons, Wynns, Fields, Bartons, Rogers, Hitchcocks, etc., never got their hottest publicity as showmen through minor fractures.

"Let's tune in and see who's substituting!" has become a TV fan's routine plea. "He can't be so good," Junior said to us last night, "he's physically sound."

New TV programs with a mishap background are in order. We hear four programs will soon appear labelled: "From Gags to Stitches," "You Crashed for It," "Trouble or Northing" and "Howdy Nursie." Broadway is even talking of a legitimate play for Gleason. . . . "TV and Sympanthy."

Bob Hope says he is headed for new riches. . . . Struck coffee on his ranch.

Chief Requests Notice From Weed Burners

Fire Chief O. A. Sifritt has asked city and county residents to call the fire department before "burning-off" any fields on their property.

The chief said the season for grass fires is approaching and just a phone call prior to lighting a fire may save lives, property and tax money.

He asked residents to call his office and say where and when the burning was going to be done. If the location and the nature of the fire warrants it, he will send men and equipment to the area to stand by in case they are needed. If it is just a small fire, he'll tell the resident to go ahead alone. Then, if someone sees the smoke and reports the fire, his department will know it is just a false alarm unless the original caller telephones again for help.

Chief Sifritt also said his office will be glad to give advise on how to burn-off grass and weeds so as to avoid a tragic fire.

Wages and Goods

By George Sokolsky

It is not always possible to equate wages absolutely because both the standard and cost of living are important factors in any study. Nevertheless, when the import of goods into the the United States is considered, the cost of producing such commodities must be considered in relationship to similar costs in the United States. In this country, wages and taxes are the principal cost of both production and distribution.

SOKOLSKY

According to the American Tariff League, whose statistics are generally reliable, about as reliable as figures can be in this era of propaganda when even governments discolor and distort what they give out, wages currently vary as follows (hourly rate in United States dollars):

United States, $1.78; Canada, $1.38; Sweden, $ .75; Belgium, $ .48; United Kingdom, $ .47; France, $ .46; Germany (West?), $ .44; Italy, $ .37; Japan, $ .19.

THESE FIGURES must be approximate because of differing exchange values and differing methods of reporting, but they give a fair picture.

The wage gap is enormous and must affect the cost of production and the end price. If to these wage figures were added the cost of taxes, bespoken and hidden, it would be clear that in certain commodities even more efficient production would not close the gap between imported and domestically manufactured commodities. The American-made article will have to leave the market before the onslaught of imports.

Two schools of thought accept this condition as satisfactory:

1. The laissez-faire capitalists who hold that all barriers to trade are worse than the corrections for unsatisfactory conditions. Their view is that if the products of another country can defeat ours in our marketplace, the fault lies with our management, which is not alert enough to beat off competition. There are also those who believe that despite the mechanization of industry to a point approaching the automatic, American management has a superior know-how which can meet competition from abroad. They point to the automobile industry as an example.

2. The internationalists hold to the view that unless we make it possible for our allies and other friendly nations to make money in our dollar market, they will forever be dependent upon our subsidies, which cost us more and produce a condition which does us less good than free commerce. They favor a lower tariff or even free trade.

AGAINST THESE TWO arguments is the fact that certain industries in the United States, particularly the electrical equipment industry, are already showing signs of suffering from import competition from low-age countries. This raises the social problem of unemployment for which in this country, during the past two decades, there seemed to be no solution but war.

The argument as to whether the rise in unemployment represents a recession or a depression is academic. For partisan political purposes, one may argue at great length as to the difference between a recession or a depression, just as 15 years ago, propagandistic economists invented the word reflation to confuse us. Fortunately that word is now forgotten. The point is that when Americans are out of work, they get mad. No matter what such unemployment is called, it raises social issues which can only be met on a political level. Unemployment is the most ugly social disease of our society.

The Randall report added too little information on this subject to be worthy of notice. It seems to have been a wasted effort that may have to be done over again, as accurate data, now unavailable, is essential for reaching correct decisions.

Prime Objective

By Victor Riesel

J. Edgar Hoover tells us that the "hard core" commanding the Communist underground is made up of men and women who've had facial surgery, who have changed their hair styles and habits, acquired new vices to replace old ones and have even altered their manner of walking in an effort to stay undetected in their sabotage and espionage cells.

RIESEL

Mr. Hoover also reveals that what they have not changed are their operational techniques.

True, the FBI is constantly intercepting infiltration experts trying to worm their way into the atomic and hydrogen installations, but while the country believes that the Soviet underground is making the Atomic Energy Commission and our jet and electronic plants their top objectives, they actually are concentrating on a new "prime target" while we look another way.

THE FBI CHIEF recently told congressmen in a well-guarded session that the "prime target" for the Communist party now is "particularly the automobile industry." Which means the CIO's auto union, as well.

Our own counter - espionage and internal intelligence chief reported that this target was selected at a secret national Communist conference held last August.

Edgar Hoover's own words were:

"In regard to the infiltration of labor, the Communists regard labor unions as instruments to be controlled and used to develop the Communist revolution.

"A national conference held in August (1953) . . . of the Communist party reaffirmed their time-honored premise that control of the labor union is of primary importance to the development of the Communist revolution in this country.

"They designated, particularly, the automobile industry as being the prime target because it is well known that it is one of the most vital industries to our national defense production."

Having just traveled through the auto belt, I can understand why the Communist apparatus is sending its people into areas like this one.

IN SOUTH BEND, for example, after talking to Studebaker president H S. Vance, I learned that the company has had to cut back from a wartime high of 18,000 employes to its traditional, famous skilled force of 12,000 or slightly less.

THIS LEAVES some 6,000 younger men at Studebaker alone seeking jobs, restless and perhaps politically exploitable. They were the newcomers who joined the steady, home - owning skilled working force. Throughout this industry sooner or later they had to go—in South Bend, in Detroit and in every other area where defense orders have been slashed.

Mr. Vance, and other industrialists, point out that the auto industry is basically healthy. In the next decade there must be a turnover purchase of some 60,000,000 automobiles. But the next year will see adjustments — and layoffs—across the industry. That's what the Communist underground is under orders to exploit.

So it is, according to the top G-man, that the Communist party told 65 per cent of its New York members to go out and try and find jobs, even now, in the basic industries across the land.

Instructions were issued for the reorganization of the Communist party in Los Angeles recently, for example. The series of five - man cells were told to organize on an industrial basis and party members were directed to shift their jobs — find work in the basic industries there Throughout all this, special emphasis has been placed on securing jobs in the auto union's field.

THUS THEY could propagandize for violent demonstrations of unemployed and still be set to disrupt production in these plants—which would "materially affect our national defense," according to Mr. Hoover.

This tactic, and their hold on those unions expelled from the CIO in 1949, still 'poses a major and dangerous threat to out national security," Mr. Hoover estimated.

Therefore, it seems to me that it is good news to report that I have just learned here that the House Un-American Activities Committee is going into Michigan on March 29.

The committee will probe three cities. Two of these investigations and series of hearings will expose concentrations of Communists in the Detroit and Flint auto plants.

The committee also will go after the apparatus in Lansing

I learn that subpenas have been handed to some men in the Briggs and Ford Auto Locals and to some operators in Flint's Chevrolet, Buick and AC Spark Plug plants.

Now it will take more than facial surgery and new vices to keep the underground disguised.

Beck Proposes Safeguard on Welfare Fund

Teamsters Cast Wary Eye on Congressional Graft-Hunting Probe

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Locals and other subdivisions of major unions apparently are afraid the "heat" from congressional probes may cause national unions to take over control of rich union welfare funds

The AFL Executive Council recently recommended here that all AFL national unions set up safeguards for locals' handling multi-million-dollar health and welfare funds.

First To Act on Policy

The 1,300,000-member AFL Teamsters Union is the first AFL group to move to implement the new policy.

Dave Beck, teamsters president, reportedly ran into considerable opposition from divisions within his union. Beck is known to have assured a group of Teamsters Union lawyers drafting a set of proposed unionwide rules designed to help guard against graft from such funds that his supervision would not lead to his taking over the fund completely.

Beck's assurances, however, did not allay fears of some local leaders. Even putting aside the possibility of sharing in fat fees in handling such funds, management of the assets and distribution of benefits is an important avenue of union political power.

Expected To Okay Bid

Despite objections, the union's Executive Board was expected to grant Beck general supervisory powers over locals' welfare funds. It was reported they would be carefully drafted to preserve the locals' autonomy to control the trusts.

Union supervision of such funds has recently been under close congressional scrutiny. President Eisenhower asked Congress to conduct a searching study with the idea of establishing stricter legal checks Two House committees are launching new probes of such funds.

Harold Gibbons secretary-treasurer of Teamster's Local No. 688 in St.Louis, who was here in connection with the union board meeting, earlier this week, was called back to St Louis and summoned before a federal grand jury investigating reports of labor racketeering Wednesday for refusing to produce the local's books for the grand jury.

May Name Trustee

It was reported that Beck was considering appointing a trustee to take over the local from Gibbons and give the local's records to the grand jury. But this could not be confirmed here immediately.

Meanwhile, the Teamster board refused yesterday to go along with a proposed AFL-CIO "no raiding" pact. The action was expected to endanger the agreement—which would prohibit persuading already organized union members to switch unions—and to jeopardize chances of an AFL-CIO merger.

Beck said his unions, for the time being, preferred to negotiate separate peace pacts on jurisdictional problems with individual unions.

He said, too, that the AFL should invite John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers, now independent, to return to AFL affiliation Beck said Lewis should participate in any future labor peace moves.

Breeder Seeks Better Line for Clydesdales

ST LOUIS, Mo. (UP) — Twelve one-ton Clydesdale horses have been imported by August A. Busch, Jr., for experimental breeding at his estate

Clydesdales, famous for size, beauty and gentleness, are a trademark of his brewing firm, which once used them to draw its beer wagons but now uses the huge horses for show and advertising.

"We want to see if we can produce an ever-greater horse," Busch said, "a sort of super-Clydesdale."
